MAY 7 WAS GRAND ARMY DAY WITH WOMAN'S RELIEF CORPS

On Friday, May 7, 1920, the Woman's Relief Corps entertained the comrades of the Grand Army at high noon in honor of the organization of that order, which occurred April 6, 1866, and was therefore 54 years, 1 month and 1 day old at that time. The yearly anniversary of this order creates not little planning and guessing on the part of the W. R. C. The question, What shall we do to give them a pleasant day, and it usually is answered by a motion to serve refreshments. Having decided what, there begin the suggestions as to the kind and amount. Then comes the executive committee, asking what will you furnish for the meal, and beans, bread, pie, cake, pickles, meat, potatoes, cabbage salad, pudding, coffee with sugar, yes, real sugar, for nothing is too good nor too expensive for the members of the Grand Army of the Republic. The old hall is usually good enough and large enough for any occasion, but this time the powers that be decreed that better accommodations and better service could be obtained at the St. Cloud hotel, so on Thursday morning the committee took possession of this hostelry, and the merry work began. Tables, chairs and dishes were transferred from the hall to the hotel, a general emigration of portable things took place and all roads lead to the hotel. Anyone passing by this structure on the north side, in the twilight, after the lights were turned on, could observe tables spread with snowy linen, on which were laid highly polished plates and glassware, with the necessary silver knives, forks and spoons. All this transformation taking place on Thursday. Early on Friday morning the cooking began. There was beef to cook, which must be tender at the appointed time. Beans partly cooked the day before must be all ready when everything else was in readiness. A quantity of coffee for the "Boys in Blue" never lost their appetite for the beverage that cheers but not inebriates. Basket-laden women arrived singly and in groups, until the tables fairly groaned with good things for the guests to eat. When all was in readiness, "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp," the boys came marching, Post Commander Holden leading the way, and followed by 128 of his comrades. They quickly took their places at the table.

By request Rev. N. W. Beauchamp returned thanks and the busy work of capturing the supplies began in earnest. The jokes and merry laugh resounded through the first part of the meal.

Then attention was called to the fact that the next thing in order would be the serving of toasts.

The first toast offered was "The Grand Army." Response by Rev. N. W. Beauchamp.

"The First Call;" response by Senior Vice Commander of the Department of Florida G. A. R., Rev. G. W. Brown.

Rev. W. F. Kenney responded to his call in his usual happy manner. Past Commander Rev. Cook responded to the call for "Patriotism."

The ladies sang one verse and chorus of "A Thousand Years." Comrade Rev. Brand gave reminiscences of '61 to '65. Comrade Rev. Santee talked along the line of temperance. Comrade Metzgar spoke of charter members of the Grand Army, saying among other things, that only one of the charter members of the organization of the Grand Army is now living.

Mrs. Marskie gave a little toast to The Flag and the Members of the Grand Army. This closed the exercises as far as the comrades were concerned, but there still remained approximately seventy-five ladies of the W. R. C. Each had her appetite with her and proceeded to satisfy it from the baskets full which had not been gathered up.

One of the pleasing things of the feast was a huge birthday cake, 18x28 inches, covered with white frosting, decorated in red, with the following words, "Grand Army, April 6, 1866. The cake was the product of the St. Cloud Bakery. 'Nuff sed.

We move a rising vote of thanks to Mrs. Mosher for her kindness in permitting the use of her hotel on this occasion.

Au Revoir.

OLD ABSALOM

Absalom was ninety years old. For years he had been a familiar figure around the railroad station, picking up odd pennies, carrying luggage and doing errands.

One day, after a heavy snow, the westbound express stopped at the station and the passengers, warned of a long wait, left the chair cars to stretch their legs. One of them spoke to Absalom.

"What community is this, Uncle?" he asked.

Old Absalom scratched his wooly head.

"What's a community, mister?"

"A community is a city or a town or a village where folks are sociable; where everybody knows everybody else; where the stranger is made welcome; where every man, woman and child gets together for common enjoyment and recreation", replied the questioner.

Uncle Absalom opened his eyes wide in astonishment.

"I'm pretty suah this yeah ain't no community," he said. "This is jest a place".

Uncle Absalom described the town accurately. It had its cliques, its social barriers. The folks west of Main street didn't talk to anyone living east. You "belonged" in the best circles, or you didn't. Nobody ever thought of some civic organization by which all classes would get together, forget the social barriers and work for the common good.

Community Service is making communities out of places. Through it, selfishness and social prejudice give way to common enjoyment.

CITY COUNCIL HOLDS INTERESTING SESSION MONDAY; CATHCART RETAINED MARSHAL

The city council met in regular session last Monday and transacted quite a number of important matters, among which was the ratification of Mayor Ralls' appointment of H. F. Cathcart as city marshal, this matter having been left open form the last meeting.

The account of Hagerman, the auditor on which the Bank of St. Cloud claims to have paid Mr. Hagerman in full, was presented and the council asked to pay the amount set out. It appeared from the discussion that the bill was never presented to the council by Mr. Hagerman, but that he sold the account of the bank before it was ever audited by the city, and up to now Mr. Hagerman has not had the city come to an agreement as to just what they do owe him. The matter was left over until the next meeting in order that the city attorney could advise the council in the matter.

The tax books for the coming year's assessment were presented by City Tax Assessor Ide, and next meeting set as the time to begin the equalization of the assessment rolls.

H. H. Hull asked the council for rates on furnishing 50-horse power current for motors to be used in a new mill to be operated here soon, and the matter was left open for further conference with Mr. Hull, the council being disposed to lend all encouragement to the new industry that could be done.

The reguar monthly bills were read and ordered paid.

Mr. H. A. Lee appeared before the council asking for lights to be placed along Pennsylvania avenue to the lake, offering the costs to be paid by the properfty owners along the route.

An amendment to the city ordinances was adopted increasing the mayor's salary to $20 per month. Also an amendment increasing the clerk's salary to $125 per month.

The resignation of Dr. Chunn as city treasurer and member of the council was read and accepted to take effect when a special election has permitted the people to elect a man of their choice for the place.

The City Clerk and Tax Collector made the following report of April collections for the various departments of the city.

General Fund	$1,059.66
Sinking Fund	605.52
Street Fund	2.00
Licenses	3.50
Sanitary Fund	1.50
Impounding Fees	20.00
Fines	43.90
Permits	5.00
Cemetery	10.00
Delinquent taxes	16273
Electric collection	818.35
Water collections	447.19
Total	$3,179.85

Which report was ordered approved and filed.

Council recessed until next Monday morning at ten o'clock.

NEW WATER-PROOF COATS AND HELMETS ARRIVE

Monday ten new water-proof coats and ten new fire-proof helmets were received for the local fire department, this equipment being purchased out of funds secured recently by a food sale given for the benefit of that organization.

The new equipment will outfit ten members of the local fire department with proper equipment to do their work as fire fighters with more safety to their life and health, while later it is intended to equip each member with this kind of outfit. With ten men fitted out in this manner it is a decided improvement for the department, as heretofore the members have been without rain-proof coats or helmets for protection.

McLINN ADDRESSES VOTERS

Walter McLinn of Tallahassee, candidate for state treasurer, addressed a meeting of St. Cloud citizens last night in the interest of his candidacy. Mr. McLinn is making a thorough canvass of the state and brings out several reasons why it is time to change state treasurers.

His opponent, the present state treasurer, J. C Luning, has not yet visited St. Cloud.

CHUNN RESIGNS AS TREASURER TO BE EFFECTIVE WHEN ELECTION IS HELD

Dr. J. D. Chunn presented his resignation as member of the council and city treasurer at the regular meeting of that body last Monday, the resignation to take effect when a special election has been held to name his successor. Dr. Chunn is soon to move his office to another city, which necessitated his vacating the office. The resignation was accepted by the council to take effect when the election has been held, and no appointment will be necessary for the interim as has been the case in vacancies that have occurred before, when the council was required to appoint an officer until the election was held.

Dr. Chunn has filled the offce of city treasurer and member of the city council in a most satisfactory manner and he has a host of friends who regret that he is moving to another city.

Dr. Chunn came to St. Cloud in the early days of the city, and has been identified with the growth and progress of the city in every manner since locating here. His loss will be felt both by the taxpayers whom he has served as an official and by the citizens in general to whose wants he has ministered in cases of illness. He will take with him the best wishes of the whole city, who will wish for him the continued success that his abilities have brought him.

Dr. and Mrs. Chunn have sold the hospital building on Massachusetts avenue, and will soon take up their home in Lake Wales, Fla., a beautiful little city "on the ridge," that has taken on new life the past few years, and is destined to become one of the leaders among the progressive towns of South Florida.

CLASS IN CITIZENSHIP

What is your congress doing? Are you vitally interested? Are you satisfied with the spending machine? According to present estimates our military adventures alone will cost us nearly three billions a year—pensions, interest on public debt, upkeep of the army and navy. Only about $150.00 a family.

Your congress eats, drinks and dreams politics. The ordinary member is a product of politics and cunningly applies to the personal problem of holding his own or going higher in public life. Shall we continue the astounding spectacle of several hundred congressmen forensing and franking and freeseeding day and night to convince constituents that congress and the nation could not exist without them, when they know they have no influence whatever? The other day a prominent Republican was asked what was coming up in the House. "I don't know a damned thing about it," was his answer, "go and ask the Steering Committee." How misgiving are such "representatives!"

Do you know how bills are passed by "unanimous consent?" It's a wonderful scheme.

The Class in Citizenship will discuss these subject and continue the Open Forum on the Constitution. Questions will cover the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh lessons of the catechism. Wednesday the 19th, at 3 o'clock, in the Annex.

What is the meaning of the provisions of the Constitution, "No bill of attainder or ex post facto law shall be passed?"

Is an export tax constitutional?

What is the provision relative to commercial intercourse between the states?

What safeguard is thrown around government expenditures?

Can the U. S. ever have Lords, Dukes, or other titled citizens?

What are the prohibitions of the Constitution in regard to powers which may be exercised by the states?

What power over treaties has the president and senate?

What is the chief function of government?

M. B. CUSHMAN.

REPORT OF WOMAN'S IMPROVEMENT CLUB

The Woman's Improvement Club opened with the usual routine of reports of committees and other business. Ten books were presented to the library by Mrs. Nellie Childers. These gifts are always appreciated.

Mrs. Simms, our librarian, was present and gave a good report of the meetings which she attended at Orlando. She heard fine papers from the librarians at Jacksonville and Tampa, urging the need of educating the people to use the libraries and teaching the child how to use them. Open Forum and round table discussions were instructive, the principal themes being the promoting of libraries, and Amerizanization. Efforts were made toward establishing a library in Orlando. A Florida library association was formed.

Rev. Wm. Landis gave an excellent talk, urging the cooperation of this club with other organiations in an attempt to make our city more attractive to tourists and a better place to live in.

Dr. Cushman being absent, Mrs. Herdrix took charge of the Citizenship class. Much interest was taken in the study of the Constitution.

Mrs. Fripp of Kissimmee was present and gave an informal talk in which she expressed a desire that the two clubs might co-operate in various ways for the mutual benefit of Kissimmee and St. Cloud.

The meeting was then adjourned until May 19th.

SHOCK OF "BLIMP" IS FATAL TO HOWARD GOFF

After suffering for many months from the shock of the "blimp" accident last summer, Howard Goff, 2228 W. 110th St., Chicago, died suddenly at his home Thursday night, March 25, 1920. Mr. Goff was one of the staff of the Illinois Trust & Savings Bank, and was in the bank office when the sensational 'blimp" tragedy occurred. This experience shattered his whole nervous system and his friends recognized that he was not himself since this accident.

Howard Goff had been a respected citizen of Morgan Park for a number of years. "His kindly and helpful disposition endeared him to neighbors and friends. His going away marks a very distinct loss to the community, of which he was so important a part," one of the Park's ministers said of him

The funeral services were held March 29th, in the Morgan Park Congregational church. The church was filled with friends who came to pay their last respects and to express their sympathy to the widow, Mrs. Hattie E. Goff. A friend said of him, "As a friend, neighbor and business man, Howard Goff had made for himself a place of high esteem. Efficient and untiring in any work which he undertook, he leaves a monument of achievement in several spheres of our community life."

(Copied from the Weekly Review, Morgan Park, Ill.)

That, Whereas, our brother and sister Goff have been called to pass through a great sorrow in the passing of their dear son, Howard Goff, therefore be it

Resolved, that we extend to our dear brother and sister Goff, our warmest sympathy as an association,, realizing for them that trying times are hasting times.

And may He, who doeth all things well, bring to their consciousness the realization of the Truth as it is in Jesus. "God is an ever present help in every time of need."

Mr. and Mrs. James Buchanan leave next Tuesday for Brownstown, Ill., after spending their tenth winter in this city. The Buchanans have become well pleased with St. Cloud and will be numbered among our guests next season.

REMAINS OF W. E. KOCH WERE BROUGHT HOME FROM FRANCE

One of the most impressive ceremonies ever witnessed in our city was that of the interment of the body of Private Walter E. Koch, U. S. A., here on Sunday afternoon. Private Koch was taken sick while enroute to France in the late World war ,and died in a hospital in France on Sept. 13th, 1918. The body was shipped from France to this place, arriving here Saturday

The remains were taken from Eiselstein Brothers' undertaking parlors at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon to Mt. Peace cemetery, east of the city, under an escort of twenty ex-soldiers and sailors, under Lieut. Frank, where the last services were held. Upon arrival at the cemetery the ex-service men formed a circle around the grave and relatives of the deceased, and stood at "parade rest" throughout the services, conducted by Rev. J. P. Haner, after which they came to "attention" while Comrade J. I. Cummings played taps. The pall bearers were three soldiers and three sailors.

The deceased came to St. Cloud with his parents from Arkansas to make his home, but answered the call of his country shortly after arriving here, and made the Supreme Sacrifice. He leaves a father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Koch, and a little six-year-old son, to mourn their loss.

L. L. Mitchell Post Meeting

L. L. Mitchell Post, No. 34, G. A R., met on May 7th at 2 p. m. Called to order by Commander Holden. All officers present except Officer of the Day, but same was filled by Comrade DeGraw. Two candidates were mustered in. Two applications were received for next meetings. Mrs. Ela E. Flemming of Lakeland entertainment, given for benefit of the Post, was a grand success, both financially and in point of attendance. The Post gave Mrs. Mosher a rising vote of thanks for the use of the St. Cloud hotel for a dinner given by the W. R. C. in honor of Grand Army day. All veterans were invited to the dinner. Music and short talks were in order after the repast, an occasion long to be remembered and enjoyed by all.

Mr. Montcell left on Tuesday for a visit at Chicago.

ST. CLOUD'S NEWEST PAVING IS MATERIAL ADOPTED AS OFFICIAL PAVING BY CITY TAMPA

THE TAXPAYERS OF ST. CLOUD WILL BE INTERESTED IN KNOWING THAT THE ASPHALT BLOCK NOW BEING LAID ON NEW YORK AVENUE IS THE MATERIAL THAT HAS BEEN ADOPTED BY THE CITY OF TAMPA AS THE OFFICIAL PAVING MATERIAL FOR THEIR STREETS IN FUTURE. THIS CAME ABOUT AFTER TAMPA HAD USED SOME 2,000,000 YARDS OF THIS MATERIAL, THE SERVICE PROVING SO SATISFACTORY AND THE ROADS CONSTRUCTED OF THE BLOCK BEING SO UNIFORM, THAT IT WAS DECIDED AS THE BEST MATERIAL FOR CITY STREETS.

IN HILLSBORO COUNTY THERE ARE OVER 2,000,000 YARDS OF THIS ASPHALT BLOCK.

IN JACKSONVILLE THERE ARE OVER 50,000 YARDS.

SARASOTA HAS OVER 40,000 SQUARE YARDS.

PLANT CITY IS PAVING STREETS TODAY WITH THIS SAME MATERIAL.

ST. CLOUD PRICES LOW

THE PRICE AT WHICH THE CITY OF ST. CLOUD OBTAINED THE PAVING CONTRACT FOR NEW YORK AVENUE, WITH A PROVISION THAT PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE COULD SECURE THE SAME PRICE IF THE WORK WAS DONE WHILE THE CONTRACTOR WAS HERE ON NEW YORK AVENUE, IS MUCH LOWER THAN THE SAME PAVING IS BEING CONTRACTED FOR IN TAMPA TODAY, WHERE THE BLOCK IS MADE. THE PROPERTY OWNERS OF ST. CLOUD DESIRING TO SECURE THESE LOW PRICES UNDER THE PRESENT CONTRACT SHOULD MAKE IT KNOWN TO THE CITY AT ONCE, AS NEW ORDERS WILL HAVE TO BE CONTRACTED FOR AT WHATEVER THE MARKET DEMANDS IN FUTURE, AND EVERYWHERE THE ROAD BUILDING MATERIAL IS GOING HIGHER, BECAUSE OF THE GREAT DEMAND FOR GOOD ROADS THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY.

PROPERTY OWNERS ON PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE SHOULD NOT MISS THIS OPPORTUNITY OF GETTING PAVING AT A LOWER PRICE THAN NEW CONTRACTS ARE BRINGING TODAY. ACT AT ONCE!

INTERESTING HAPPENINGS AT COUNTY CAPITAL BY REGULAR CORRESPONDENT

(Written for last week.)

Herbert Hoover said, at a recent child welfare meeting, that the whole problem of Americanization would be met in twenty years if the nation would systematically grapple with the child problem and insure proper conditions of birth, education and nutrition. Mrs. John F. Fuller, president of the State Equal Suffrage Association, recently spoke in Kissimmee upon Child Welfare rather than Law Enforcement, rightly preaching preventive rather than curative measures. In her address she referred to Bolshevism as representative, or rather the result of the neglected childhood of Russia.

Mr. Hoover stated that in the Americanization the solution must come from the conscience of every separate community, and that the responsibility rested largely upon the women. Years ago the women had a vision of a nation free from intemperance, which later fruited in the prohibition amendment.

The problem of child welfare requires the same determined effort on the part of women—"the mothers at large of the world."

Pinellas county is doing fine work in the welfare of its children. They have a county nurse and a free clinic. Every two weeks at the hospital in Clearwater, the physicians on the hospital staff give their services for the clinics and later operate without any charge if an operation is found necessary. A small amount is charged for the anesthetic, operating room and hospital care for a day and a night.

Other counties are having effective work done by county nurses and social workers.

Eventually these things will come to Osceola county.

This week the women of Kissimmee sent to the city council the following communication, and may their vision for greater things be soon in materializing.

To the Hon. Mayor and City Council:

During the past year there have been numerous instances come to the attention of the Mothers' club when it seemed to us there was need of a competent health officer to be in the employ of our city. Some of these instances were where milk was being offered for sale which was not handled in a sanitary manner; businesses which harbored flies and other insects, which businesses were not protected by screens; and many minor instances which could be greatly improved if conducted under the supervision of a competent officer.

In offering these suggestions we would cast no reflections whatsoever on the marshal or other officer of the city, for we are pleased to state that in all instances of which we know these officers have proven themselves competent and have done everything in their power to administer properly the laws of the city, but we think that there is more work to be done than the present officers have time to do and we, as a body, therefore respectfully request that your honorable board appoint a competent person whose duty it shall be to attend to the enforcement of all sanitary laws of our city and to look into all cases of sickness which can in any way be termed contagious.

Again respectfully requesting that you give this matter careful consideration, we are

Respectfully,
MOTHERS' CLUB.
Mrs. W. J. Fripp, Pres.

A very successful meeting was the County Sunday School convention held in the Christian church of Kissimmee this week. Sixteen delegates from St. Cloud and Kissimmee Park were in attendance. The addresses were full of wholesome, practical suggestions. Many helpful hints were given but deplorable as usual, is the fact that there were so few of the S. S. workers there, especially at the day-time services. Busy word, this. The business hour resulted in the election of the following officers:

President—Rev. Wm. Landis.
Vice President—A. S. Nelson.
Secretary—J. P. Haner.
Treasurer—S. L. Lupfer Jr.
Supt. of Children's Work—Mrs W. H. Coleman.
Supt. of Young People—Miss Alberta Hobson.

Last Sunday evening the Methodist League installed the following officers:

President—Murray Overstreet.
Vice Pres.—Cecelia Overstreet.
Sec.—Maggie Mae McCrannie.
Treasurer—Nina Bratton.
Pianist—Helen Bass.
Rev. Hodnett gave the charge.

Rev. O. B. Falls preached the annual sermon to the I. O. O. F. on last Sunday night.

Mrs. O. B. Falls entertained the Missionary Union on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. J. E. Lupfer had the program in charge. Subject Mountain Whites.

Mrs. W. H. Coleman of the Christian church has charge of an interesting triangle club in that church. Recently the girls have made scrap books for orphanages. Two of these books were given to a Missionary of China, now home on furlough. On her return to China she will give these books made by Eunice and Madge Rivers (Dr. Rivers' children), to Chinese children. Chinese mothers are so appreciative of American help that they name their babies for American donors, so naturally there will be further distribution in the land celestial.

Miss Albina Smith spent last Friday and Saturday in Mt. Dora, Lake county, in the interest of her line of work. Miss Smith says just now Osceola county folks are planning to can beeves. Many families are making sauer kraut.

Misses Elon Guice and Medora Russell were guests over Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Shuck of Orange Center.

Supt. C. E. Yowell and Supt. A. B. Johnson of Orange County attended a teachers' institute at Bartow last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Sumter Leitner are visiting their aunts, Miss Almena Leitner and Mrs. Edwards on Verona St. The Sumter Leitners were recently married at Inverness. Miss Leitner attended the wedding. Mr. Leitner is of the law firm of Leitner and Leitner (3 brothers) at Arcadia. Mrs. Leitner is the daughter of R. L. Turner, rural school inspector of Inverness.

By the way, Mr. Turner was in our town yesterday and at the Jo Sears meeting Tuesday night

Hon. Joseph Sears addressed the home people on Tuesday night. The people heard him gladly and we trust will act wisely on June 8th. Mr. Sears proclaims himself a man of business equilibrium, a believer in states rights as applied to prohibition amendment and suffrage for women.

Misses Emma Yowell, Elon Guice and Medora Russell, with Mr. and Mrs. Guice, spent last Saturday in Orlando.

Mr. and Mrs. Mal Lamb of Shingle Creek spent last Sunday in Shingle Creek.

Miss Lenora Van Duzer, granddaughter of Mrs. F. J. Van Duzer, sends out a very attractive card announcing her graduation day, May 16, in the high school of Vandalia, Mo.

Mrs. Murphy, wife of our esteemed Judge Murphy, has been ill for several months. She returned from a sanitarium at Formosa, Saturday.

Mr. J. M. Willson returned Monday from Baltimore, and says Mrs. Willson is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Warden of Kissimmee Park visited Mr. and Mrs. Lye Story over Sunday.

Of our winter folks who left for northern homes this week were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hale, Miss Marie Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Sweetland, Mrs. H. Gleason.

Kissimmee banks, dry goods stores and groceries will close on Thursday afternoons beginning May, to continue E. E. Lee, Miss Zaidie Lee and Mrs. until Sept. 1.

May Meeting of County Commissioners

The Osceola County Commissioners held its regular session on Monday and transacted such business as came before it.

Chairman A. F. Bass being unavoidably absent, E. L. D. Overstreet was elected acting chairman.

S. W. Porter of St. Cloud asked for his share of the insurance of court house furniture, and jail, and suggested that in accordance with the rise in prices, the value of the property be raised.

J. J. O'Quinn offered to paint the court house roof for the same price that he did the work for two years ago. No action was taken.

Commissioner Overstreet suggested that as the county only had at present time one convict, he be turned over to the sheriff for safe keeping. Road Grader G. W. Ashton stated that the convict in question would serve his time by the end of the week, so it was decided to leave him where he was.

Commissioner Overstreet suggested that the state road trucks now in use be turned back to the State Highway Department, or else stored away. Commissioner Mach said that as a quantity of marl had to be put on each side of the Dixie Highway it would be a good plan to keep the trucks until this work was done.

Insurance Agent Carson Farmer speaking for S. W. Porter, M. Tiller, Lupfer Insurance Co., and himself, made a proposition that the insurance on the county court house, etc., which will expire June 24, be divided between them, for five years, and that the 80 per cent valuation, on account of the increased cost of all materials and labor, be raised from $24,000 to $56,000. This was accepted by the board on condition that the premium be paid at the October meeting.

The clerk read the presentment of the grand jury to the board.

Pat Johnston to either buy from the county what it had paid in for the dipping vat on his farm, or that the county should put the vat in proper shape. The board agreed to sell the vat.

The final estimates on the St. Cloud-Melbourne road were presented by Post Hallowes, the engineer.

C. A. Carson, Jr., presented an additional claim for demurrage of $628.27 on cars which were shipped from Lakeland and held there until solid trains were made up, instead of shipping the material in single cars or two or three. Attorney Pat Johnston's opinion was that the charge should not be paid, as the board had no right to authorize its payment, and besides that the engineer was instructed last month to deduct this amount from his estimates. Mr. Carson thought this payment was authorized by resolution at the January meeting, but it was found that it referred to something else. The board thereupon passed a resolution in which this demurrage charge was deducted from the final estimates.

The matter of paying the final estimates, amounting to $3,681.73, was voted upon, Commissioners Baisden and Partin voting yea, and Mach and Overstreet voting nay. This brought the vote to a tie, and Acting Chairman Overstreet, voting as chairman, cast his vote as yea, it being the consistent policy of Chairman A. F. Bass to vote in this manner in all matters connected with the St. Cloud-Melbourne highway.

M. L. Stanley appeared and stated that he was 68 years old and destitute; also nearly blind and deaf. He asked for some work from the county and suggested that he do some painting on the Fair Ground property. He was informed that the county had nothing to do with the Fair Ground property, and the only way they could help was to make him a monthly allowance of $10, which was done.

Mr. Stanley, in his talk, impressed everyone present as being a man of education, culture and refinement, and he was listened to sympathetically.

The call for the primary election, to be held on June 8th, was issued and the inspectors appointed.

Sheriff Ingram asked that he be allowed a motor policeman to run down violators of the speed limit law. This was put to a motion and passed.

The board passed a resolution, as requested by the board of commissioners of state institutions, in regard to deposit of $100 as reward for the capture of each state convict who had escaped from this county. That as the convict lease system had been abolished it was necessary to settle all accounts, and four men were still at large: State prisoner No. 6551, Tom Scott, escaped March 1, 1919; B-618, Robb Malachia, escaped May 2, 1918; B-255, Henry Miller, escaped June 5, 1918; and B-231, James Cobb, escaped May 14, 1918.

Kissimmee, May 10.—(Special).—The Kissimmee Chamber of Commerce, until recently calle dthe board of trade, has elected the following officers to serve during the coming year: J. S. Cade, president; J. M. Johnston, vice president; J. E. Downing, secretary; [illegible] errors has not yet been sected but will be at an early date so that the organization will be all ready to go to work on June 1, when the newly elected secretary, J. E. Downing of Tarpon Springs, will assume his duties. Mr. Downing comes highly recommended as to his habits and ability, and the citizens believe themselves fortunate in securing his services. With the coming of Mr. Downing the chamber will occupy new quarters in the postoffice building, which is the most desirable location in the city. The room will be well furnished and all meetings of the body will be held there. The room will also be used as a reading and rest room and will, of course, be information headquarters for the city. — Tampa Tribune.

At the preliminary contest held in the following pupils were selected to enter the final contest on Friday night, May 18: Lois Overstreet, Katherine Tiller, Dot Makinson, Edna Matthews, Mary Speers, Joe Sears, Jack Simpson, Murray Overstreet, Leonard Tucker, Ula Chapman and Etelka Stroud.

The ninth annual session of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Florida Conference is in session here this week. The four days' program is full of interest. "The Two-fold Life" is the general subject with delineations of the Lives of Martha and Mary. Meetings are well attended, possibly more than hundred delegates are here, representing many towns and hamlets of the state.

Mothers'-Teachers' club will entertain at public reception on Friday afternoon, May 21, from 4 to 6 o'clock. Members of St. Cloud's Woman's Improvement club are invited as special guests of honor. On the committee on arrangements are Mrs. J. E. Lupfer, Mrs. L. H. Ingram, Mrs. J. Z. Roberson, Mrs. A. W. Bailey, Mrs. O. J. Roundtree and Mrs. Bart Bryan.

Mr. Malcom M. Overstreet and Miss Jeanett Prevatt were quietly married Sunday night by Rev. R. F. Hodnett at the Methodist parsonage. Mr. and Mrs. Overstreet began housekeeping on Monday at their home near Shingle Creek. These young people are well known here and have many friends to wish them well.

KELLEY'S "PILGRIMS PROGRESS"

Receives Praise of Music Critics in New York Evening Post.—Mrs. Kelley Well Known in St. Cloud.

Friends of Mrs. Edgar Stillman Kelley, who was a distinguished visitor in St. Cloud during the past winter, will be interested in the comments of the New York Evening Post on "Kelley's Pilgrims Progress," a composition by Edgar Stillman Kelley, the noted composer. Mrs. Kelley pleased a large audience while here with her musical selections, most of the compositions rendered being those taken from the work of her distinguished husband, whose work, "Pilgrims Progress," had not at that time been rendered in full. The following are the criticisms of Henry T. Finck, music critic for the New York Evening Post:

Edgar Stillman Kelley, whose new oratorio, "The Pilgrim's Progress," had its first performance in New York last night at the music festival in the 71st Regiment Armory, is best known to the public at large as the composer of incidental music to "Ben Hur," a play which nearly everybody has seen. He has also written incidental music to "Macbeth." His comic opera, "Puritana," has had over one hundred performances. In the concert world he first attracted wide attention by his "Aladdin" suite, with Chinese themes, suggested to him in San Francisco. Many are familiar with his songs, "The Lady Picking Mulberries," "Israel" and "Song of Iras." His chamber music works are important, and his New England Symphony is the finest symphonic work composed in America; it has been played by the leading orchestras throughout the country.

"Something of the experiences, ambitions and aspirations of our Puritan ancestors" was what Mr. Kelley endeavored to embody in that symphony. And now the patrons of the New York Oratorio Society's Festival have been made acquainted with the latest product of his creative impulse with John Bunyan's famous story as adapted for musical setting by Mrs. Elizabeth Hodgkinson.

In this version the story is divided into three parts. In the first part are "The City of Destruction," "Christian Departure," "The Wicket Gate" and "The Valley of Humiliation." The second part is taken up with "Vanity Fair," while the third includes "The Delectable Mountains" and "The Celestial City." The score consists of twenty-four numbers.

In planning the musical setting of "The Pilgrim's Progress" Mr. Kelley [illegible] should make an opera of it or an oratorio. In the vocal score, as issued yesterday by the Oliver Ditson Co., stage directions are printed; as on page 3, after the prelude: "The curtain slowly rises, disclosing the outer walls of a gloomy medieval city. Christan, a man in rags and laden with a heavy burden, is discovered in the foreground. The sky is cloudy." In a prefatory note Mr. Kelley refers to the happy coincidence which provided him with a poetic treatment of the allegory in the form of a "musical miracle play." He adds: "In treating the highly imaginative creation of John Bunyan in the form of a medieval mystery with modern musical coloring, opportunity was afforded for composing a work without the limitations of the oratorio tradition on the one hand or the paraphernalia of the opera on the other. The possibility of ultimate stage production was, however, kept in mind by the composer, although the work will be known chiefly by concert performance."

In concert form it had its premiere in Cincinnati two years ago. Its performance last night was the second, and it is safe to say that many more in other cities will follow. Walter Damrosch deserves the thanks of local music lovers for giving them a chance to hear, on a good and frequently stirring interpretation, what is certainly Mr. Kelley's master work, and what we feel tempted to call the finest choral work ever composed by an American. It was received with enthusiasm by a huge audience, which lost no opportunity to applaud the musicians and, after the second part, the composer, who received an ovation. A flash-light picture was taken, with composer, conductor and soloists in the center, Mr. Kelley holding a laurel wreath that had been sent up to him.

The opening choruses in The City of Destruction, depicting the Lord's wrath set the pace with Handelian vigor; they are full bodied, energetic, skillfully and idiomatically constructed, as are all those that follow, showing Kelley as much at home in the realm of choral music as in the chamber music and the symphony. There is a splendid rhythmic pulse and variety, unusual in an oratorio, due, of course to the fact that "The Pilgrim's Progress" is, like Saint Saens' "Samson et Dalila" and Liszt's "Saint Elizabeth," semi-operatic. No one would blame the composer for this. "Why should the Devil have all the good tunes?" was asked long ago. Why not have operatic animation in an oratorio when the situation calls for it?

It does not call for it again and again in Kelley's work. The chorus of fiends, singing of storm and thunder and of earthquake and fire, suits the music to the words in a way recalling the good example of Berlioz and Liszt. "I Come Like a Storm" is another case. There is a fresh, buoyant quality about all these choruses that is refreshing and stimulating.

The "Vanity Fair" divison is full of descriptive music—programme music with words it might be called. The outcries of the venders and dancers offering their vanities give opportunities for picturesquely varied and sectional choral treatment, of which Kelley has made masterful use. There is free use of percussion instruments that are silent in the typical oratorio. The scoring is decidedly modern, yet there is no trace of Debussy, and only one very brief allusion to Wagner (a reminiscence of ("Die Meistersinger") in Madame Bubble's Address. "Reminiscence hunters," as the Germans call them, will find no game to bag in Kelley's "Pilgrim's Progress." The music is all his own; and while not all of it is equally inspired none is commonplace or boresome. There is always something to hold the attention, either in the vocal line or the symphonic web and coloring.

Some of the choral angel voices are as soothing as the fiends' outcries are stirring. To sing them there was a huge choir of boys and girls—there seemed more of them than adult singers. They sang not only beautifully but with enthusiasm; and when they had the chance they overwhelmed the composer with a volley of applause imbued with the same enthusiasm—a tribute of admiration which must have warmed Kelley's heart even more than the ovation he got from the audience.

The full chorus which ends the first part was as stirring as anything in "Elijah" and Walter Damrosch made the most of it. Another big climax comes at the end of it, where the chorus and orchestra are re-inforced by a set of aluminum tubes with resorators. These added to the mass of sound, but should have been beaten much louder to make their own lovely tone quality audible as such.

The illness of Mabel Garrison caused the substitution at 24 hours' notice of Vera Curtis, who sang well, nevertheless, in the part of the Angel. Another change was that, at the composer's request, a boy soprano, Master Edel, took the Shepherd Boy's part, originally assigned to Miss Sundelius. He was scared blue—poor fellow, till he reached the final high notes, when he showed why he had been chosen. Julia Claussen was effective as Mme. Bubble, Reinald Werrelrath was a noble voiced Christian; Lambert Murphy, an appropriately operatic Atheist. Charles T. Tittman employed his fine, sonorous voice eloquently in the part of the Dreamer, and no less satisfactory was Royal Dadmun as the Worldly Wise Man, while Frederick Patton made the most, dramatico-vocally, of the part of Apollyon.

To sum up, "The Pilgrim's Progress" is a success, and so was last night's performance of it

The Repudiation of Reed

In view of the fact that the dailies of Florida, particularly those of the larger cities, were so enthusiastic over the campaign of Senator James Reed, while he toured the country speaking against the League of Nations, the following editorial from the St. Louis Globe Democrate, Reed's home state, will be of interest. This will give our readers the actual truth as to what the people of Missouri think of the man who fought his party and his party president:

The platform adopted by the Democratic State Convention is resonant with rhetoric, but it speaks loudest in its silence. Born out of the greatest and bitterest fight in the history of the Democratic party in Missouri it has naught to say about the senior senator who occasioned the fight. Nor can it be said in this case that "silence, like a poultice, comes to heal the blows sound," or that "silence is the speech of love." It is the thunderous silence of a great anger, a wordless repudiation of a representative who has deeply and irreparably offended his party constituents. The primary issue before the convention was James A. Reed. The campaign for the election of delegates to his convention was based upon this issue. The county conventions, and, in the cities, the ward conventions, met with the question of Reed or anti-Reed obscuring every other issue. And long before the gathering at Joplin it was plain that the judgment of the party was the condemnation of the senator It refused even to consider his election as a delegate at large to the national convention, an honor that by custom would ordinarily have gone to him without contest. It refused, by the overwhelming vote of 1,070 to 490, to permit him to go as a delegate to the national convention, even from his own district. And in its platform it endorsed the League of Nations, of which Reed has been one of the most bitter opponents, and instructed the delegates to the national convention to "vote as a unit for the adoption of a platform approving the League of Nations without destructive reservations on the part of the Senate.

We are unable to recall anywhere in American history a similar repudiation of a United States Senator by his own party in a formal state convention. Senators to be sure, have lost popularity in their party and been relegated to "the dust and silence of the upper shelf," but we do not think that any Senator of the United States has ever been condemned as Reed has been condemned by the Democratic party of Missouri. Indorsed by the state convention in 1916 as one whose voice "is always raised in behalf of the principles of Democracy," and whose return to the Senate was declared to be "a national need," he is considered in 1920 unworthy even to represent the party as a district delegate to the national convention. Yet in the meantime his moral integrity has not been impugned. Considered as a man, setting aside purely political acts, the standing of Jim Reed would be no lower than four years ago if it were possible to consider him with that separateness. But his political conduct has not only aroused the strong condemnation and antagonism of his party, but has necessarily affected its estimation of his character. He has lost not only the confidence but the respect of his party.

And this loss has come through the exercise of the same talents or powers that gave him eminent leadership in theh Democratic party. Senator Reed is a master of the specious. He is an expert in the erection of men of straw to be bombarded with his own 14-inch guns. He is an adept in the art of excoriation. He knows, as few men know, how to make an untruth or a near [illegible] reality. His vocabulary of vituperation is inexhaustible and he delights in its use. As long as he was using his forensic arts on the Republican party in the state and nation there was joyous and approbative acclaim. But when he turned his corruscating rhetoric upon the leadership and policies of his own party he arouse a bitter animosity that has caused his utter rejection by the party. He might have quietly and soberly opposed the president and retained the respect of his party for his independence of thought. But the ginger in Senator Reed's blood will not permit quietude, and, even in these dry days he cannot refrain from the intoxication of his own verbosity. The activity and poignancy of him could not be ignored. The Democratic party in Missouri had to do something about it. He and the President, the party leader, were at opposite poles, not on one question, but on many. No legs were long enough for such a straddle. Evidently the majority of the party had no desire for a compromise. Reed had grievously offended. He had to go.

Whether Reed is dead politically remains to be seen. What his many friends in Kansas City and St. Louis, who are still loyal to him, may do remains to be seen. What effect the action at Joplin will have upon the coming election remains to be seen. But whatever the consequences the Democratic party in Missouri has made it plain that the views so vociferously expressed by Senator Reed are repugnant to it and it will not follow his leadership.—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

Lincoln W Hulley, in an interview given out in Jacksonville last week, says he is in the race for governor to the end and that if he don't get the nomination he will go into the courts and throw Hardee out of the running. He had a beautiful opportunity to prove his democracy when John Watson withdrew, by doing likewise and leaving the race between Hardee and Swearingen, so that the Democrats of Florida could decide between radical and conservative administration, but Hulley chooses to muddy the waters and will suffer the consequences on June 8th.

We are in receipt of Volume I, No. 1, of the Real Estate Journal, published by Gordon Nye at Miami, Fla. The first edition is a twelve page edition containing some timely cartoons from the pen of Mr. Nye, who is known as one of the livest newspaper men of Florida. Mr. Nye was for a time editor of the Valley Gazette at Kissimmee, and friends who knew him then predict a prosperous career for the new publication, of which he is the guiding spirit. The city of Miami is the proper location for such a publication and every page of the Real Estate Journal is bristling with development stories and attractive advertising. The paper will become a power for greater development in Miami.

THE TEMPLE ORANGE

The Buckeye Nursery of Tampa has through several years of experiments, produced a new type of orange and has named it the "Temple Orange." The fruit is smaller on the average than the commonly known varieties, has a russet appearance, and peels almost like the kid glove varieties of tangerines, satsumas, and has a delightful flavor that appears to be blended with the pineapple and king orange, together with the lusciousness of the hardy tangerine. The fruit has an attractive coloring, thin peel, easily removed and is of the popular size, while its flavor shows that several 2varieties have been successfully blended in a pleasing manner. We understand that but a limited number of trees have been grown of this variety for this season, but it is planned to place the new variety on the market on a large scale as soon as possible. If the seed run true to type, an accomplishment that takes years of experiment to secure from pollenized crossing, we predict Florida will become famous for its Temple orange.

It might be said in passing that the name chosen is that of one of the best known citrus growers in Florida, Dr. Wm. Chase Temple, whose efforts in behalf of the citrus growers is known throughout South Florida.

We saved the seed from samples of this fruit received last week, and are going to try to get some seedlings started, since the nursery reports a scarcity of this variety for filling orders this year.

The Buckeye Nurseries have been leaders in the citrus nursery business since their entry into this field of in[illegible]

D. C. Gillett, head of the Buckeye Nurseries, has always been found in the forefront of development work for all of South Florida.

WHAT ARE YOU PLANNING TO DO AT 70?

There is no dead-line for mental activity in mankind, and no reason for the belief that age means retirement and idleness. In early life the emotional element is strongest and with it much constructive work, but the higher mental qualities mature later, of which there are many striking examples among statsmen, philosophers, scientists, workers and thinkers. Benjamin Franklin lived to be 84 and did his largest work after 70. His autobiography is a work worth studying by every American boy. In Japan it is used as a text book in the schools.

Harold Palmer delivered a series of lectures in Jacksonville recently. He is 58 years old and looks to be 25 or 30. He is an example of a man who is as young as he feels, acts and thinks. To him the world is beautiful, wonderful and glorious. He agrees with Emerson that "though we travel the world over to find the beautiful, we must carry it with us or we find it not." He says "all the way to heaven is heaven." Fidelity to duty, he believes, is the root and branch of Christianity. To call the Lord by great and dear names does not take the place of the plain doing of His Will, and the word expressed hope of eating bread with Him in heaven, is wasted breath unless we plow and plant and harvest in His kingdom here and now.

Why would we fear old age? Charles Dickens wrote: "Father Time, though he tarries for none, often lays his hand lightly on those who have used him well." Titian, the Italian painter, at 99 was at work on his wonderful picture, "The Christ of Pity," when he was stricken and died of the plague. Two women who distinguished themselves in science and lived to be aged 96, were Caroline Herschel and Mary Somerville. The first was a famous astronomer, and the second was a mathematician. At the age of 92 Mrs. Somerville wrote: "I am still able to read books on higher algebra for four or five hours in the afternoon."

Eliphalet Nott, divine, educator and scholar, was born on Friday, June 25, 1773, at Ashford, Conn. His early life was a struggle for an education. When he died in 1866, at the age of 93 years, he had been president of Union College for 62 years, and left it an endowment of $600,000, which he secured as royalties from a stove, the first to burn anthracite coal, and one of more than thirty patents issued to him; he published "Lectures on Temperance," and "Counsels to Young Men," and spent much time in experiments and researches connected with the application of the laws of heat to the arts of life. Many bright things can be quoted from his pen.

"No man can be fattened on the feast that spells famine to another." "The revival that does not stir the sheep will never win the wolves." "The man who prays to be nothing has been answered before he began."

Alexander von Humboldt began his work, "Kosmos," when he was 74, and finished it when he was 90, and it stands as one of the greatest scientific works ever produced; George Bancroft wrote his "History of the Formation of the Constitution of the United States" when he was 82; William Cullen Bryant made his wonderful translation of Homer's "Iliad" when he was 76; Verdi wrote his most famous opera, "Falstaff" when he was 80; Buffon finished his "Natural History" at 81; Goethe completed "Faust" at 80; Fannie Crosby, blind from infancy, was still writing hymns, of which some 8,000 stand to her credit, when she died at 95; William Gladstone lived to be 89, and was known as the "Grand Old Man." Dr. F. N. Peloubet, associated with American Sunday School work for nearly 60 years, and widely known as editor of the annual "Select Notes on the International Sunday School Lessons," died March 15, 1920, aged 89 years.

Old age has been considered the "King of Terrors," but why should it be? Or why should death be? Schiller said that "Death Must be a blessing Because it is so Universal." Let us say with Job: "Thou shall come to thy grave in full age, like a shock of corn cometh in his season."

The war did not make the Salvation Army any better, it simply gave the people of America the opportunity of knowing [illegible] has always been ready to do all in its power to alleviate suffering. Florida will have from May 10 to May 20, an opportunity to strengthen the arms of this worthy movement.

We thought we were getting a special edition of the Perry Herald this past week, but upon investigation found that the editor had to resort to high priced book paper on account of the news shortage. The Herald should be appreciated and, judging by the nice line of advertising it carries, Perry has a progressive lot of business men.

This week print paper, such as the Advocate is printed on, was selling at $12.50 per hundred—when you can get it. For years we purchased better paper for $2.40 a hundred. And everything which goes to make up a newspaper has taken just about such a raise. Under these circumstances no one should expect cheap printing and subscribers should not expect to receive two or three bills for their subscription before paying it. It's a lucky newspaper which weathers the storms of the next six months.

SONG OF THE TOURIST

We are going to the Northland,
Where our loved ones wait the while
First to give us tender greeting,
First to welcome with a smile,
Where our homes the long cold winter,
Like forsaken nests were seen,
Desolate and dark and lonely
With no home-fire's ruby sheen.

We are going, yet reluctant
Looking back through misty eyes,
To the land of golden sunshine,
Singing birds and azure skies,
Florida with winds that strengthen,
Florida with waters pure,
Giving health and joy and vigor,
All the hills of life to cure.

We are going, duty calls us,
But we leave our pledges here.
We will come again and with us
We will bring our friends most dear.
Those we love shall hear the music
Of the mocking bird at dawn,
Those we love shall see the glory
Of the flame-vine on the lawn.

We are going, but 'tis only
Summer flitting, we shall yearn
For the stars that twinkle brighter,
For the silver sands that burn.
Age loves not the ice-bound streamlets,
Age loves not the snow-drifts white;
Earth is dearer, heaven is nearer
In this land of pure delight.

Miss Grace Davis and niece, Miss Virginia Davis, will leave Friday for Jacksonville, where they will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Philpott for some time. Miss Davis will join a party that will be in attendance on the Deaf Mutes' convention in St. Augustine May 19-23, before returning to her home in this city.

Send your friends one of those folders issued by the St. Cloud Ten Thousand Club. It will give facts that cannot otherwise be conveyed to people interested in this part of Florida.

Our attention has been called to the fact that some years ago Capt. Tatman enjoyed tomotoes the year round from one set of plants at his place down on the Kissimmee river. A reader says S. W. Porter deserves credit for his discovery, but he is not to be allowed to get away with the exclusive distinction of an ever-bearing tomato in this sction of th state.

R. W. Davis will leave next Monday for Jacksonville, where he will visit with Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Philpott, who formerly lived in St. Cloud, and on the 18th will attend the Deaf Mutes' convention at St. Augustine. The convention will be in session until the 23d. Mr. Davis has always taken a great deal of interest in the Deaf Mutes' association of Florida, and Mr. Philpott is secretary.

Dr. Alice G. Smaltz and Mrs. Clara S. Williams, who have been spending the winter in the Wonder City, left for their northern home this week in their car, going by way of Daytona and Jacksonville. They expect to stay about three weeks in Jacksonville. Mrs Williams was a visitor here about three years ago and owns property here, and will probably return next winter. Dr. Smaltz is a prominent chiropractor, and is so well pleased with St. Cloud's climate and citizens that she is thinkink of locating in or near here some time in the future.

Mark Stanton and wife and S. P. Van Dugen left Monday afternoon for their northern homes after spending the winter in St. Cloud. Mr. and Mrs. Stanton are going to Marietta, N. Y., near Syracuse, and Mr. Van Duyen going to Newark, N. J. They expect to return early next fall, if possible.

Dr. J. R. Fulk of the General Extension Division, University of Florida, addressed a large gathering at the Hgh school on Friday evening of last week on Child Study work. Much interest was taken in the work outlined and it is planned to have several more meetings of this nature in St. Cloud in the near future.

The Rev. J T. W. Stewart, pastor of the Presbyterian church, will preach next Sunday morning as usual, and in the evening give a steropticon lecture, using the inter-church slides. This promises to be one of the most interesting lectures of the kind ever given in our city, and everyone should endeavor to attend. All are welcome.

Comrade J. W. Smith is in receipt of several copies of the "Amaroc News," a six-column, 8-page paper published in Coblenz, Germany, in the interests of the American forces in Germany. It is a very interesting paper and contains all the latest press reports, they being received by wireless, and is published every day, including a Sunday issue. The papers are sent to Mr. Smith by his step-son, Private James E. Murray, of the 13th Co., Provo Guard, who is stationed at he base hospital, Seine, Germany.

Hon. Allie M. Angle, who has announced as a candidate for Comptroller, and Hon. James M. Calkins, candidate for attorney general of Florida, were visitors in St. Cloud Monday afternoon, getting acquainted with the voters. Allie just came home from the army to make the race, while Mr. Calkins has been delayed in getting about over the state on account of an attack of flu, but both are now making record time in geting over the state. They spoke at Orlando Monday evening, and promise to get back to St. Cloud again before the close of the campaign.

Louis S Johns of Whittier announces this week as a candidate for the office of county commissioner from District No. 5 (Whittier), and will serve the people of his district in a faithful manner if elected in the primary June 8th. Louis has lived in Osceola county all his life and has never held a public office or sought one, although Gov. Broward sent him a commission as member of the board of county commissioners, he returned the commission and refused to serve. Mr. Johns is well known all through the county and has been one of the prominent cattle raisers of his section for several years. His entry makes three candidates for the commissioner's job in Whittier.

CALKINS AND ANGLE STOP IN ST. CLOUD MONDAY

James E. Calkins, candidate for attorney general, and Allie Angle of Tampa, candidate for comptroller of the State of Florida, were visitors in St. Cloud Monday, when they made themselves known to a great many people who had never had the pleasure of meeting these two distinguished candidates in person.

Mr. Calkins is making a thorough canvass of the state for the office of attorney general and has a record for public service that probably has never been equalled in Florida. He was delayed for several weeks in starting a campaign for the office by being confined to his home by influenza, but has fully recovered and is now addressing the voters in this part of the state, setting forth his claims for the office. Mr. Calkins is an able man and makes friends and votes for his candidacy wherever he goes.

Mr. Allie Angle was only recently [illegible] discharge from the army to come home and make the race for comptroller, a position for which he was a candidate and was second high man four years ago. Mr. Angle's war enlistment will end shortly, but it was necessary that he secure special permission to come home before his enlistment ended in order to comply with the primary election laws in Florida, if he wished to be a candidate. Mr. Angle is opposed by Hon. Ernest Amos, present comptroller of the state.

It is probable that a political meeting will be arranged for St. Cloud at an early date, to which all the important state candidates will be invited.

METHODIST CHURCH NOTES

A new class has been formed in the Sunday school and made a splendid beginning last Sunday. More have promised to be on hand next Sunday.

"Putting God to the Test" will be the subject of the sermon Sunday morning. The evening subject will be "Remembering Joseph."

The pastor has received a communication from Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Farnum, who left for their home in Vermont some time ago. They drove thru in their car, making the trip in 12 days. They report plenty of snow still in Vermont.

Rev. Landis will preach at Brown's Chapel Sunday afternoon.

The Epworth League is planning for a picnic supper in the park, followed by a social and business meeting at the home of Mr. Goff, on Tuesday evening. Officers for the coming year will be chosen at this gathering of the League.

FRED BASS OUT OF RACE

Fred M. Bass of Kissimmee, who announced several weeks ago that he was a candidate for the office of State senator, this week announces that he has withdrawn from the race. This leaves the contest between Hon. N. C. Bryan of Kissimmee, and M. O. Overstreet of Orlando, with three counties, Osceola, Orange and Seminole to decide the question.

Bass was recently indicted by the grand jury for assault and battery on the person of W. B. Harris, editor of the Valley Gazette, at Kissimmee, after having been held over to the circuit court from the county court on a charge of mayhem, it being alleged by the prosecution that Harris had lost the sight of one eye as a result of an altercation which occurred in Kissimmee between Bass and Harris.

AFTER NINE YEARS

This Testimony Remains Unshaken

Time is the best test of truth. Here is an Orlando story that has stood the test of time. It is a story with a point which will come straight home to many of us.

Mrs. J. D. Renaker, 602 S. Hughey St., Orlando, Fla., says: "I had severe back aches and my kidneys gave me a lot of trouble. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and got a box. I never used a remedy that did me as much good as this medicine, for they relieved me of my kidneys, and I gladly recommend them."

Above statement was given Feb. 20, 1920, and on March 2, 1918, Mrs. Renaker said: "It is with pleasure that I again recommend Doan's Kidney Pills for the cure they gave me has been permanent. They are just as represented."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Renaker had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

Rural Logic

When Mr. Farweight came to town on a visit he discovered many things—that busses could go without horses—that you could walk for a whole hour without striking a field or an acquaintance, and finally, that you couldn't hit a policeman simply because he compels you to move out of other people's way.

As he was being taken to the station he inquired what the policemen intended doing with him.

"Never mind. You'll find out soon enough," said the policeman grimly. "Seven days, probably."

"Seven days! Ah, that's where I have ye, old blue bottle!" chuckled Mr. Fairweight triumphantly, producing the return half of his ticket. "I've got to go back on Monday!"—London Answers.

These Dangerous Days

Chug-Chug! Br-r! Br-r! Honk! Honk! Gilligillug-gilligug!

The pedestrian paused at the intersection of two busy cross streets.

He looked about. A motor car was rushing at him from one direction, a motorcycle from another, a steam truck was coming from behind, and a taxicab was speedily approaching.

Zip-zip! Zing-glug!

He looked up, and saw directly above him an airship in rapid descent.

There was but one chance. He was standing upon a manhole cover. So, quickly seizing it, he lifted the lid and jumped into the hole just in time to be run over by an underground train.—London Tit-Bits.

Statement of YOUNG TINDALL

To the Voters of Osceola County:

As I have made no statement as to what I would do if elected to the sherirff's office, because I have felt that there was no need for me to make any statement after having lived in the county practically all my life, however, as there are possibly some few who do not know me, I wish to state for their benefit that if the good people of this county see fit to elect me, I shall fill the office to the best of my ability without fear or partiality. I will do my utmost to run down and break up the lawlessness in the county, and at the same time give the law-abiding citizens the protection to which they are entitled from the Sheriff.

Rumors are afloat that I have promised appointments of deputy sheriffs to certain men in this county, if elected. I wish to state that these rumors are false; that I have made no promise, and do not intend to make any in regard to this matter

At the earnest solicitation of my many friends, I have decided to make the race for County Judge of Osceola County, subject to the Democratic primary of June 8th, 1920.

C. P. MATTHEWS.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for County Judge of Osceola County, subject to the Democratic primary to be held June 8th, 1920.

I will strive, if elected, to perform the duties of the office efficiently, courteously and impartially.

GEORGE W. FOX.

(Paid Advertisement)

Letter from George W. Fox, Candidate For County Jundge.

To the Voter of Osceola County:

The time is drawing near when you will be called upon by your votes in the Democratic Primary to select a man to serve you for the next four years as County Judge, the most responsible officer of our county, for it is his duty to see that all estates of deceased are legally and savingly administered upon so as to prevent waste or litigation and to see that all persons are treated alike in the proper enforcement of our laws, which should be done, not for the purpose of crushing but to reform those who violate them. The protection of our lives and property depends upon the rightful enforcement of our laws.

In order to perform rightly the duties of a County Judge a man should be educated and learned in the law.

I consider it proper treatment to the voters for a candidate for an office to present his qualifications or fitness to serve them in the office for which he aspires.

In presenting my claims to you as a candidate for County Judge in the Democratic primary, June 8th, I wish to quote in part what the Knoxville Sentinel of Knoxville, Tenn., in which section of country I was born and reared and lived until I moved to Osceola county in 1913, published about me of March 27th, 1897, viz.,

"Mr. George W. Fox, attorney, was born and reared on a farm near Knoxville. He worked on the farm and attended the public schools until 18 years of age, being fully determined to acquire a thorough education, he, by permission of his father, starting out in life relying solely upon himself, to attain the goal of his ambition. By close application to his text books he obtained a certificate to teach school, and finally accumulated sufficient funds to enter Carson & Newman College, where he graduated in the Classical Course, receiving the degree of A. B. in 1884, which was succeeded later by the degree of A. M. The first year after Mr. Fox's graduation he was elected principal of Walnut Grove Academy in Knox county, and at the end of the first year he resigned to accept the principalship of Maury Academy, a school of high grade located at Dandridge, Tenn. This school, under his management, increased more than five times in attendance. In 1887 the board of Trustees of Loudon College, Loudon, Tenn., elected him president of that school and the two years during which he managed it are the brightest in its history.

In 1889, Mr. Fox desiring to enter his chosen profession, that of the practice of law, for which he had been preparing, resigned as president of Loudon College and the same year was admitted to the bar. His success as a lawyer has far excelled that of a teacher. He has a lucrative practice and stands at the head of his profession. He represents two banks and a vast money loaning syndicate of New York City. He was elected and re-elected mayor of the City of Loudon, Tenn. He is a deacon of the Broadway Baptist Church."

In May, 1908, I was elected councilman of Park City Division of Knoxville, Tenn., leading the ticket; and re-elected in May, 1910, and during my four years in this office as chairman of the Improvement Committee large sums of money were used in developing the city.

In 1913 my health failing me from overwork, I came to this grand climate, and in my travels I stopped a while in Kissimmee. In 1914 I came back, bringing my family, and stopped for a longer time in Kissimmee and visited St. Cloud, and so delighted were we with the climate, the people and the future prospects of Osceola county that we determined to obtain for us a home here and cast our lot with you and do our mite in serving and helping develop our country. In 1915 I obtained my home on Mabbette St., Kissimmee, and moved in it the same year. My health has been restored and I am glad I have come. In 1919 I was elected one of the councilmen of Kissimmee City, leading the ticket, for which I feel grateful to the good people of Kissimmee. As a councilman of Kissimmee City I have striven to do what I believed to be right.

My life for the last five years is an open book before you, and I refer you to any man with whom I have had dealings and to my neighbors in West Kissimmee. My idea of life is to treat my fellowman as I would have him treat me, and to live for others as well as myself.

If chosen by your votes in the Democratic primary, June 8th, to serve you as county judge, I will strive to do so efficiently, courteously and impartially, treating each attorney and litigant and every other citizen alike, and guard well all estates of deceased.

Respectfully,
GEORGE W. FOX.

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of County Judge of Osceola County, subject to the Democratic primary to be held June 8th, 1920. If elected I promise to do my duty to the best of my ability.

Z. BASS.

For Representative in the Legislature

W. R. Godwin is a candidate for representative in the legislature from Osceola county, subject to the action of the Democratic primary to be held in June.

FOR COUNTY TAX COLLECTOR

J. Earle Lupfer is a candidate for County Tax Collector of Osceola county, subject to the action of the Democratic primary to be held June 8, 1920. He is qualified for the position and will appreciate your vote.

FOR COUNTY TAX COLLECTOR

I take this method of announcing my candidacy for renomination to the office of Tax Collector of Osceola County in the primary to be held on June 8th. Since being in this office I have devoted my whole time to the office, not engaging in any other business of any kind. If renominated, I promise the same careful and personal attention to its duties as in the past. I solicit your vote and influence and assure you that it will be very much appreciated.

C. L. BANDY.

FOR TAX ASSESSOR

I wish to announce to the people of Osceola County that I am a candidate for re-election to the office of County Tax Assessor. During the time I have held this important office, I have endeavored to render efficient service, and if re-elected shall continue so. I thank you sincerely for the favors accorded me in the past and again solicit your vote and support in the primary on June 8, 1920.

WM. T. BARBER.

I hereby announce myself as candidate for the office of County Tax Assessor of Osceola County, Florida, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, June 8, 1920, and will appreciate your vote and support.

JENNINGS PREVATT.

FOR PROSECUTING ATTORNEY

I am a candidate for County Prosecuting Attorney for Osceola County, Florida, in the Primary election to be held June 8th, 1920.

If elected I pledge myself to faithfully and diligently discharge the duties of the office without fear or favor.

MILTON PLEDGER

FOR CIRCUIT COURT CLERK

I hereby announce my candidacy for re-election as Clerk of the Circuit Court of Osceola County, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, June 8, 1920.

I extend my sincere thanks to the people of the county for past favors, and solicit your support at this time, and if elected I pledge you a faithful discharge of my duties.

Respectfully,
J. L. OVERSTREET.

For Superintendent of Public Instruction

I hereby announce myself for re-election to the office of County Superintendent of Public Instruction, subject to the decision of the Democratic primary of June 8th, 1920. If elected I promise to devote in the future, as I have in the past, the whole of my time to the duties of the office.

C. E. YOWELL.

For Member of the County School Board for the St. Cloud District

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for member of the County School Board for the St. Cloud District, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, June 8. Your vote will be appreciated.

R. H. HILL.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of County Commissioner for District No. 2. If elected I promise to discharge the duties of the office to the very best of my ability.

J. M. HANSELL.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of County Commissioner from the Fifth District, subject to the action of the Democratic primary to be held on June 8th.

F. H. RAISDEN.

For County Commissioner

I hereby announce my candidacy for County Commissioner of District No. 5, subject to the action of the Democratic primary to be held on the 8th day of June, A. D. 1920.

If I am elected I will endeavor to serve the public faithfully and efficiently, and I earnestly solicit the support of the voters in said district.

L. S. JOHNS.

For County School Board

We are authorized to announce General T. Barber as a candidate for member of the County School Board from the St. Cloud district, subject to the action of the voters in the primary on June 8th.

We are authorized to announce the name of Joe E. Johnston as a candidate for County Surveyor, subject to the action of the Democratic primary of June 8th. Your vote will be appreciated.

W. I. Terry Died in Portland

Comrade W. I. Terry passed to the Great Beyond at Portland, Ore., April 15 1920. Mr. Terry was born in Sugar Grove, near Aurora, Ill., Sept. 7, 1842, and was therefore about 78 years of age. He was one of the pioneers in the veterans' colony at St. Cloud, where he took a great interest in all public matters. He lived in anticipation of returning to this city, but death overcame him after a short illness. Two sons, Winthrop Terry and Robert A. Terry, are the only children surviving. Mr. Terry was a member of the 52d Ill. Vol. Inf. at the outbreak of the Civil war, and after serving three years was discharged with the rank of captain. He had a host of friends in St. Cloud, who will extend to the bereaved children their sympathy.

When the average man expresses his gratitude it is merely an offhand way he has of asking for more.

VETERANS' ASSOCIATION

The Veterans' Association met on Saturday, May 7, 1920.

Opening song America.

Prayer by chaplain.

The announcements were read and approved, and the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The meeting was then turned over to the W. R. C., with Mrs. W. H. Slater in charge of the social hour.

Song by the choir, Old Folks at Home.

Violin solo by Mr. Andrist; two selections.

Recitation by Mr. A. S. McKay; two selections.

Music by Mr. Dingle; two selections.

Recitation by E. W. Morgan, St. Peter at the Gate.

Recitation by Mr. Blackmun.

Violin solo by Mr. Andrist.

Recitation by Ella Townsend.

Song by the choir.

The Star Spangled Banner was sung by all, and the meeting adjourned for one week.

FRANK L. SCHWINDEN,
Secretary.

FAMILY ALL WELL?

When Your Friends Ask That Can You Always Say "Yes?"

PEPTOMANGAN BUILDS RED BLOOD

The Happy Family Is the One Where Everybody Has Red-Blooded Health

Children should not be pale and wan. Women should not be tired, weak and blue. Young girls should not be sallow, listless and anemic. Men should not feel run down and poorly.

Poor health and lack of vitality are often merely the result of impoverished blood.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan is for people whose bodies suffer from lack of proper blood nourishment. Pepto-Mangan enriches the blood and increases the number of healthy red blood cells, that are so necessary to carry the proper nourishment, vigorousness, and strength to every part of the body.

It contains the very properties that are so sorely needed to build up thin, watery blood. Physicians call it the ed Blood Builder.

For your convenience Pepto-Mangan is prepared in two forms, liquid and tablet. Both contain exactly the same medicinal value.

Insist on the genuine Pepto-Mangan. To be sure you are buying the genuine Pepto-Mangan, ask your druggist for "Gude's." And be sure the name "Gude's" is on the package.—Adv.

70 BARRELS POTATOES PER ACRE IS RECORD FOR OSCEOLA FARM

R. P. Hansen Grows Wonderful Crop of Irish Potatoes Which Grade Nearly 100% No. 1

Potato season is at its height in Osceola county this week, and the majority of the growers are having the crop dug.

Two of the prominent growers, Messrs. Hansan and King, have already sold their crops, delivering it last week, and received what was considered a splendid price, $12 per barrel for Number 1's, and $11 for Number 2's.

Mr. R. P. Hansen had out a ten acre field on his place opposite the city on the east shore of Lake Tohopekaliga. When dug the spuds measured up on an average of 70 barrels per acre and graded nearly 95 per cent Number 1's. Even the culls he sold for $6 per barrel.

S. B. Aultman, who adds to his potato average each year, has out between 80 and 90 acres of spuds and is beginning to dig this week. Mr. Aultman expects to employ a hundred men on his places until the crop is out of the ground. THe says his potatoes are not as large as usual but will make up in quantity what they might lack along this line. The present prospect for prices is the highest ever received here, for potatoes sold on the Chicago and Jacksonville markets this week for $20 per barrel.

W. L. Davis has a splendid ten-acre potato field on the Davis farms at Campbell station, which he expects will be a winner. Mr. Davis stated that he would not dig until the middle of May, to allow the spuds to thoroughly mature.

It has been estimated by those who are familiar with the situation that 15,000 barrels of Irish potatoes will be shipped from Kissimmee this season.—Valley Gazette.

WHO IS C. P. MATTHEWS?

Since so many good people are back of and supporting my candidacy for County Judge of Osceola County, it is but natural that the voters should want to know the record I left in my native state—Missouri. Here are the answers to two letters I wrote for such record, one to the Bank of Pocahontas, the other to my life-long friend and schoolmate, Judge D. B. Hays of Jackson, Missouri.

C. P. MATTHEWS.

Bank of Pocahontas, Mo., Pocahontas, Mo., May 5th, 1920.

To Whom This May Concern:

This is to certify that Mr. C. P. Matthews is a stockhoder, and was a director in the Bank of Pocahontas at section of Cape Girardeau County; the time of his departure for Florida; that he was born and raised in this that he is a graduate of the State Normal school located at the City of Cape Girardeau; taught school for a number of years and has since been successfully engaged in the occupation of farming in this locality; that he has proved himself to be a man of good character and useful citizen; politically, he has always been an ardent supporter of the Democratic party.

Knowing Mr. Matthews as we do, we cheerfuy recommend him to any position—poitical or otherwise—to which he may aspire, knowing that you will not be disappointed in him if you are hunting for a good, moral and law-abiding man.

D. C. THOMPSON, Prest.
E. G. SCHOEN, Cashier.
A. C. HOPE,
J. M. THOMPSON.
Directors.

Jackson, Mo., May 8, 1920.

To Whom It May Concern:

We, the undersigned citizens of Cape Girardeau, Mo., take pleasure in testifying to the many excellent qualities of Mr. C. P Mathews, formerly of this county, now of Kissimmee, Fla.

Mr. Mathews was born in this county, and lived here all his life until removing to Florida. He is a member of an excellent family, and himself possesses qualties that give him high standing as a man and a citizen.

He was eary in life a very successful teacher, and since then has been an equally successful farmer; and in addition to skillful and judicious management of his own private enterprises, has been active in all movements for the improvement of agricultureal conditions, the advancement of education, and for the upbuilding of the community generally

He is a broad minded, public spirited, upright Christian gentleman and is a valuable asset to any community where he may reside

Frank Kelly, Judge 28th Judicial Circuit, Cape Girardeau, Mo., May 8th, 1920.

To Whom This May Concern:

I have known Mr. C. P. Mathews of our county and of the city of Cape Girardeau, Mo., for the past ten years and can truthfully say that he was one of the most highly respected citizens of our community.

He was a man who always stood for the clean and best things of life bearing testimony for the things worth while in his every day life. He was a man of unimpeachable integrity, respected for his good judgment, his disposition, and general desire to be of some value to his county and state.

He is worthy of any confidence and trust that might be placed in him and can be counted upon to stand for and support only the right, and to do that at all times and under all and any circumstances.

It gives me pleasure to mention these as some of the qualities that I know he possesses, and that he will, I have every reason to believe, maintain to the end of his life.

Very truly,
FRANK KELLY.

To Whom It May Concern:

I take pleasure in saying that I have known Mr. C. P. Mathews and his family during the nine years that I have lived in this county

Mr Mathews has always been one of our best and most progressive citizenss. As coupnty agent I have always known that better farming methodsc could get started on this farm. The Mathews farm was one of the first to demonstrate the use of lime and to buid terraces.

It was a loss to this county when Mr. Mathews decided to leave. I can recoumend hi mto any community that is fortunate enough to secure him.

Respectfully,
SETH BABCOCK,
County Agent.
